National Alliance Books Fighting Jewish Censorship

The fictitious narratives surrounding the Charlottesville "Unite the Right" rally and its aftermath catalyzed the Jewish establishment's efforts to disenfranchise dissident voices. Financial and other services were denied to a plethora of pro-White citizens' groups, including our Alliance and those which, like the Alliance, had no organizational involvement with the "Unite the Right" rally which served as the emotional lynchpin of the Jewish groups' censorship efforts.

Cart66, a fully-integrated online shopping platform that served the Alliance, withdrew that service without explanation, doubtlessly under instructions, just two days after "Unite the Right" was held.

After the loss of Cart66, we opted for a distributed rather than integrated selling solution; one in which the storefront is separate from the payment capture mechanism, which is separate from the payment gateway provider, and so on; each service being provided by a separate entity. But a chain is only as strong as its weakest link, or at least fails when a particular link is deliberately sabotaged; and the bank charged with holding the deposits snapped when the nice Jewish man called to "complain."

And repairing the broken link is a frustrating task; if you inform potential replacement providers ahead of time of potential difficulties they simply refuse the business. If you fail to inform them and get a service set up, one can expect it to have a life expectancy measured in days as demands are made to the provider's offices almost immediately. And in the increasingly unlikely event the replacement provider doesn't snap under intimidation, then other links in the chain become the subject of sabotage.

We did make some sales in September during intervals when all of the links in the chain were up and functioning. But, as of this writing, the saboteurs have struck again and the battle continues.

In the meantime, readers can buy books or make donations through the mail using checks, money orders, or well-concealed cash.

Online Donations to be Activated Soon

In a few days we expect to be ready to accept online donations through our new crowdfunding provider Hatreon. For those members and supporters with an online presence, Hatreon can be accessed at http://hatreon.net. A link to Hatreon will soon appear on the Alliance's Web sites under the "donate" menu item.

To contribute via Hatreon, you will first need to obtain a Hatreon account. Visit the site and click on "Request Invite." You will be asked to provide an email address and asked to "Tell us about yourself." You can simply say you are interested in donating to the National Alliance. Then click on submit. You will receive an email asking you to confirm your wish to request an invite and within around 24 hours of acknowledging this request, you will receive an "Invite Code."

Once you are in possession of the invite code, go again to the site and click on "Sign Up." You will be prompted to provide a few sign-up details along with your invite code.

To pledge a donation to the Alliance you will first need to provide some additional information to Hatreon. On Hatreon's home page, go to "Settings" and then enter the relevant information under "Billing Info." Once this is completed, navigate to "My Profile" and type "The National Alliance" in the search field and you will be taken to the Alliance's "Creator" page. There you can click on "Make a Pledge" and enter the monthly amount you would like to pledge. (If you want to make a one-time donation you can enter the amount and then, a few days later, go to "My Pledges" under "My Profile" and use the delete option to remove the recurring payment.)

Report From the Land

September was an active month here on the mountain. In honor of our founder's birthday we held the second annual William L. Pierce gathering to commemorate the date. Fifteen attendees enjoyed a BBQ dinner, with much of the food being from our own garden.

Two new gates were installed to better secure the Cosmotheist Community property, and plans have been made to build a nice wall between our property and that of a hostile neighbor. As that neighbor told Chairman Williams two and a half years ago, before he became so hostile to the Alliance, quoting the well-known line: "good fences make good neighbors." He will not like this wall any more than Mexicans will like Trump's (assuming Trump really intends to build one).

We moved our apiary from the remote spot where it was to a fenced-in area close to the main building. One of the reasons we decided to relocate the bees was the constant bear attacks — even the electric fence couldn't keep them from probing the hives almost every night. Getting to the former location in the winter or after a large tree has fallen on the road could be a challenge. Now we walk to the hives.

We were finally able to get a master electrician to come look at and repair some of our nagging electrical issues. Several electricians had already tried to figure out our electrical problems but couldn't. Finding the kind of technical expertise we needed was difficult and expensive. The new well control box, other electrical materials, and the repair labor was around $1,000, but worth it. We have discussed with this electrician/plumber his returning to do some more needed repair and upgrades to our community's utilities as we can pay for them.

The most heartening development on The Land this last month has been the arrival of our new staffer Jay Hess who will be residing in the same farm house Chairman Williams lived in for two years back in 1992 and 1993. It will be good having another long time Alliance supporter like Jay around to help us do some of the heavy lifting, while also managing the office. — David Pringle, Custodian and Chief of Staff, National Alliance West Virginia campus

New Staff Member

As David Pringle says, having Jay Hess living and working on The Land is a most welcome development. Jay first met Dr. Pierce in 1983 and has been a avid supporter of the National Alliance ever since. He was recently widowed and decided that after he settled his Jeannie's estate, he would leave Florida and move to our West Virginia community and do what he can to advance our cause from there. (So, Jay is now single, ladies!) Mr. Hess is 62, a lover of books and animals; holds a university degree in Marine Biology; and has a lifetime of valuable experience in fields that will help to advance our cause. Jay's official duties will be many and varied, and include primary roles as West Virginia Office Manager and Cosmotheist Community Church (CCC) Liaison to the Chairman.

Visit with Ingrid Rimland

In mid-September Chairman Williams and member Dan S. paid a courtesy visit to Dr. Ingrid Rimland, shared a large pizza with her, and toured her well-designed facility in Pigeon Forge, Tennessee.

Dr. Rimland is widowed since her world-renowned revisionist and activist husband Ernst Zundel died in Germany on August 5th. Had she gone to her husband's funeral in Germany, she would have presumably been arrested as a thought criminal. She has been following the activities of the National Alliance for a long time and in her nice follow-up note to our visit wrote, "I enjoyed meeting you. Let's keep in touch in case we need each other." We agreed to exchange periodicals and we certainly will keep in touch since Dr. Rimland's extensive facility is only a couple of hours drive from Laurel Bloomery. She is a well-spring of useful information and great stories. We aspire to build Dr. Pierce's memorial library to the high standard Dr. Rimland has achieved with hers.

Legal Update

There is no new news on developments with the Alliance's counterclaim against deceased plaintiff McLaughlin's estate, nor on possible disbursements to the National Alliance in the Jews' years-long challenge in Canadian courts to Dr. McCorkill's substantial bequest to our organization. Hopefully, we can report positive developments in these two cases soon.

As for the two cases in West Virginia between Chairman Williams and the Alliance's hostile neighbor Garland Corse, the one, Williams' appeal of the assault (of Corse) conviction, was supposed to finally go to trial on 27 September, only to be continued once again for another nine weeks, to 29 November. And that will be for yet another pre-trial hearing, not for a new trial date. The Special Prosecutor that accuser Corse demanded for Williams' appeal had already been granted a three-month continuance on 27 June because he told the court that he was having trouble finding the accuser's witnesses — one being her now-deceased former employer John McLaughlin, the other her former boyfriend Michael Oljaca who had fled to New York more than a year ago, vowing to never return to West Virginia. So, sometime in 2018, Chairman Williams will finally have his day in court on this pesky misdemeanor case from 2015, if it is not thrown out before then. The Special Prosecutor that was assigned to the appeal doesn't appear to have much interest in prosecuting Ms. Corse's "strangulation" claim. Neither does the Circuit Court judge who received at least three rambling and near-unintelligible ex parte letters from the accuser making various irrational demands and bizarre accusations.

This is the same judge, the Honorable Jennifer Dent, who is also assigned to hear Corse's appeal of the lower court order for her to return specific items she stole from Chairman Williams, or pay him $2,200, the value of the stolen items. When Circuit Court Judge Dent denied Corse's motion to dismiss the lower court's order in a pre-trial hearing, Corse (aka "DeCourcy") and her attorney sought a writ of prohibition with the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals, challenging Judge Dent's denial of her motion. Thus we have Garland DeCourcy v. Hon. Jennifer P. Dent and William W. Williams, No. 17-0572. It can't hurt Chairman Williams too much to be named co-defendant along with the very same judge before which this nutty petitioner will have to appear in Williams' ongoing appeal.

Update: One reason this BULLETIN was mailed a few days late this month was to await the outcome of the 4 October writ of prohibition that was argued before West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals in Charleston before we went to press. The ruling will not come down from the four Supreme Court Justices until the end of October, but Williams' attorney is confident that her client will prevail against his accuser, once again.

Correspondence

Dear Will: Thank you for tracking me down to this new facility. The June, July and August National Alliance BULLETINs arrived. I was surprised to read that the FBI [former Special Agent] Wayne Manis is still around. He is a very slimy individual, who, like all of the other FBI agents, likes to lie on the witness stand. The difference being that Manis' sliminess makes him bad at it. Manis testified at an evidentiary hearing at the Denver [Alan] Berg trial. Judge Matsch refused to allow him to testify at the trial itself because Manis' lies were so apparent.

The "antifa" people may turn out to be one of the best things to happen to our folk. Their violence against Whites is starting to wake people up. That — and the fact that our enemy is so vociferous in stating how Whites and anything to do with Whites are no longer wanted in this country. I have been watching the news coverage of all these anti-White protests. I am amazed at all these deracinated Whites who march and protest with impunity, as they blatantly support those who seek to destroy our culture, history, and heritage. It is a good thing we have a lot of telephone poles in this country. The Day of the Rope is going to be a very busy day...With that, kinsman, I'm gone. Give my regards to all. Take care and stay safe — interesting times are headed our way. 14 Words, — Richard Scutari, California POW

Hey, Will! Sorry to read about your cyber-troubles. Hopefully the USPS is still working. I was thinking about writing a review of the big red book The Best of ATTACK! and National Vanguard [BANV]. Many people were attracted to the National Alliance by reading The Turner Diaries, others by listening to American Dissident Voices. I ordered "big red" in 1989 and signed up the following year. BANV appears to be out of print, but used copies are available for $125 -$450! It is also available online as a free PDF download. Is that an authorized edition? Any plans to republish BANV? I have two used copies and am willing to donate one. Best wishes! — N.R., North Dakota

Chairman Williams: Thanks for another amazing box of books. These titles are excellent. There is no other way I would be able to start such a great Unit lending library without this opportunity. In this era of online suppression and fake news, it is valuable to have a tangible lending library of books that show and support our beliefs and core values. I strongly encourage other members to purchase a box of these great books. We know these won't be around forever with the way Big Brother has been censoring us. People will not find many of these titles in the public library or even online.

I am proud to be a member of our National Alliance. Every day I try to spread our message and reach out to like-minded individuals. I find the more informed and better versed I am in the fundamentals of our movement, the easier it is to combat the lifetime of brainwashing that most of our people have had to endure.

I would give all my money to the National Alliance if I could. Money means so little, but our race can be immortal. We are the mothers and fathers of civilization. Without our people, the world plunges back to primitive chaos. We see it all around us already as our homelands are lost to the brown tide. Fortunately the Alliance is a great white light in a dark world. Sincerely, — D.M., Massachusetts

Chairman Williams responds: The National Alliance needs thousands of dedicated men like you, D.M., and soon! You've purchased more of these overflow, duplicate books than any other member and see the value in having them and sharing them with the Northeast National Alliance members who are back meeting regularly again after the summer slowdown. The new post office address for Northeast National Alliance is P.O. Box 1405, Raymond, NH 03077. Congratulations on your progress. Again, the price to members and supporters for ten pounds of excellent titles for a racialist library, most of them carried in the old National Vanguard Books catalog of recommended reading, is $120.00 postpaid.

Mr. Scutari is a long-time supporter of the National Alliance, and one of two prisoners who receive our BULLETIN each month. When we learned he had been transferred and was not having his mail forwarded, we located him and caught him up to date. Members can drop Richard a few words of encouragement at his new address: Richard Scutari, #34840-080; Federal Correctional Institution; P.O. Box 9; Mendota, CA 93640.

To N.R. in ND: Yes, please write a review of BANV, suitable for publishing on nationalvanguard.org, and we will be happy to receive your extra copy. We plan to reprint BANV soon and may have to photocopy each page to reconstruct the file since my predecessor decided to destroy the old one rather than pay the $50 annual storage fee. First, though, we plan to issue a new third edition of The Turner Diaries as soon as we can find the funds. The preparatory work is nearly completed.

Gentlemen, I was an Alliance member in the late 90s and early 2000s, and I'm interested in joining again. Understanding that a lot of low-quality members came in during that time period from the Skinhead scene, my question is this: I still consider myself a Skinhead to this day. Will my membership still be accepted despite this fact? To be clear, I am fully aware of how many problems the organization had because of disreputable and undisciplined Skinheads that joined. I saw it all first hand when I was living in DC and Dr. Pierce took over Resistance Records. That said, I have always behaved with discipline, loyalty, and patience and conducted myself as a gentleman-warrior. I only resigned my membership because I decided to enter the US Army in 2002... I hope my inquiry will not be looked at with disdain, and if I am deemed fit for membership, I hope I can be of some value to your organization once again. Thank you. — E.J., New Jersey

Dear Chairman Williams: I made Xerox copies of the August BULLETIN, underlining in red the parts related to Charlottesville, and sent a copy to an attorney I'm acquainted with, and another, covertly, from out-of-state, to the Reverend of my church. I was baptized in this same Episcopal church building as an infant, but will soon be leaving. The Reverend's sermon on the Sunday after Charlottesville included something to the effect of, "I can't believe that in this day and age and in this country a young woman was murdered by Nazis in Virginia." At the time, not knowing the facts, I only faulted him for pluralizing the guilt, but the BULLETIN informed me of the false news that was used to demonize pro-White activists. I've known for decades that the Episcopal Church has operated destructively against my race and that I will not be able to change this course from within. I will not walk away without all knowing that I leave for racial reasons.

In the early part of September, Mr. Billy Roper put me in touch with the Northwest Front, a group that is new to me. I received their info package, have read their "White Book," and have a lot of their newsletters to read... Not having a computer, I look forward to the BULLETIN for further news about Charlottesville and how that woman Heather died. Take care. Sincerely yours, — O.C., Louisiana

Chairman Williams responds: Welcome to the National Alliance, E.J.! After reading your letters, e-mails, and talking with you by phone, I am confident you will be an excellent representative of our Alliance. Your description of the National Alliance 15 or so years ago, with so many undisciplined Skinheads joining all at once, is accurate. Some from that subculture are serious, have matured, and have married and have children, as you have — and we want those members of our folk in our Alliance.

O.C.: It's unfortunate that you can't get online to receive information about Charlottesville and so much more at our online magazine, nationalvanguard.org. We can't put but so much racial news in our BULLETIN. I'm pleased to learn that you will "vote with your feet," taking leave of your church on principle because of its anti-White policies. Bravo!

Billy Roper was on the staff of the National Office in West Virginia for a couple of years up until Dr. Pierce died. He must have embraced Christian Identity after leaving West Virginia, or else he kept his belief that Aryans are the "true Israelites" a very close secret while on staff there. For him to encourage an Alliance member to look at Harold Covington's Northwest Front scam as legitimate is almost beyond belief. Covington is well-known for manufacturing and publishing innumerable false stories about good pro-White activists in an attempt to damage their reputations and derail their efforts, something he has been doing for decades. Mr. Roper knows full well that Dr. Pierce condemned Covington, right here in the pages of the National Alliance BULLETIN, and that I, with Dr. Pierce's blessing, won a hard-fought libel lawsuit against Covington and was awarded what amounted to a $250,000 judgment. (I settled with the officially bankrupt disruptor for a fraction of that amount shortly before being named National Alliance Chairman.) Harold Covington is poison! If you were online you could find out all you need to know about him at a Web site devoted to debunking his many frauds, which can be found at http://noncounterproductive.blogspot.com/.

After listening to Dr. Pierce speak in your video, "Cosmotheism is the Meaning of Life," all I can say is "wow!"

Dr. Pierce made that speech the year of my birth, 41 years ago. I am truly amazed at how his words so long ago, pertain so accurately to today's cultural situation. His words are still completely relevant today. I was literally hanging on every word he spoke. He gives me hope that one day our people will reclaim our rightful spot in society, as the culture bearers, or should I say culture creators, of this world. Hopefully one day, all of the White race will wake up and take back what is ours. — J.J., via https://nationalvanguard.org/2017/07/cosmotheism-is-the-meaning-of-life/

Hate Mail

To the people of the National Alliance: If you make friends with diversity you will learn what they know about life. If you lay down your guns and make friends you will have friends. If you quit obsessing about other peoples sexuality your own personal sex life will be more fullfilling [sic]. Yours is currently the organization of the Pharisees, the sad projection of your own inadequacies. You are not Christian, you do not represent what it truly means to love this country. Your best bet is to close down your organization, teach love, donate your money to the survivors of the latest hurricane. Grow up — this is the only planet we have. Sincerely, — "A True American" (anonymous, via U.S. postal mail, postmarked California)

Hello, National Alliance. In your honor I am going to kiss a girl (I'm a female), have all the sex [sic] and have a ton of interracial and Jewish babies. Jesus thinks you suck, people like you make the world suck, you are fing morons. I hope you trip and fall today and every day. — Anonymous, postmarked Nashville, Tennessee

To: President, National Alliance: I am now convinced that these anthem protesters are part of a bigger plot to eventually outlaw the American flag which symbolizes America's core values. If you destroy the symbol you destroy the core values behind the symbol. Our core values of God, family, honor, sacrifice, courage, bravery, and country keeps our nation together; without them we do not have a United States. Think of the sequence of events; outlaw prayer in school, outlaw the confederate flag, label those that do not support the liberal agenda as racists, and remove the American Flag in the name of political correctness.

Don't forget [Colin] Kaepernick, a devout Muslim and unemployed Black NFL quarterback, started this "take a knee" movement; he has ties to the BLM [Black Lives Matter] movement which is funded by George Soros, the Clinton Foundation, and their liberal allies The Nazi propaganda machine could not have done better... [We omit the next four paragraphs of this American patriot's wisdom — Ed.]

I would recommend that your organization adopt a better marketing plan that appeals to those of us that feel disenfranchised. The most abused segment of our population is the American taxpayer. Sir, I am Hispanic, first generation, and understand your hate and frustration with the enemies of America; I agree. However, I support Israel and dislike people based on their political beliefs, not the color of their skin. Bring in the disenfranchised and your organization will succeed beyond your wildest dreams. — Anonymous, postmarked Quad-Cities, Illinois (two Christian tracts from Chick Publications included)

Commentary by Chairman William White Williams

A "Better Marketing Plan"?

There was a flurry of hate letters mailed to the National Alliance after the Charlottesville racial ruckus and the media attention we'd received in the Quad-Cities region as a result of our fliers and cards being distributed there. The three published above are typical examples. All of the letters were sent anonymously, and, besides one that was an obscene inter-racial pornographic image, all made sure to mention that they are Christian and, presumably, most were from Whites. It was ever so distressing for me to learn from these reactionary "geniuses" that the National Alliance is an organization of the "Pharisees" and that "Jesus thinks [we] suck"! The first two paragraphs in the third letter, above, sound like they could be part of a rant from a typical, semi-informed, White, conservative, Christian "Joe Sixpack" American patriot. Then, skipping to Pedro's closing paragraph, we learn he is absolutely opposed to everything the National Alliance stands for.

Hate mail is instructive; it reminds us what an uphill fight we have finding those few responsible Whites who understand our Nature-based racial separatist message, who agree with it, and who will actually do the responsible thing and join with us. Of course we receive "love mail" as well — and that keeps us going. We gained three new members during the last week in September, for example. That doesn't sound like many in a country of more than 300,000,000, but if we can keep up that pace each week over time, we are steadily, albeit still slowly, succeeding with the Alliance program. We will not be adopting Pedro's "better marketing plan." Those receiving this BULLETIN should strive to recruit at least one new member or dues-paying supporter before 2017 is out.

I received more than the usual number of requests for media interviews in recent weeks, mostly from Europe. A couple of them, one in Great Britain, the other in Russia, looked promising, but when I told them I would grant an interview on two conditions: that they must give the Alliance's Web site address and postal address, and that they must agree to not refer to me or our Alliance as "neo-Nazi, Nazi, White Supremacist, or KKK," they declined. We will grant interviews on our terms, and preferably with friendly media.

Enough commentary for now. I'll close with the last four words in our National Alliance Membership Handbook: Do right, and fear no one! W. W. W.
